Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

1. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

2. Claims 1-6, 7-9 and 10-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claims, for example, claim 1 and its dependent claim merely recite the method steps of:

"selecting a first group of at least one of a plurality of signals comprising a set of pseudo-randomly generated bits to be sent over said selected bit line; and further selecting a second group of at least one of said plurality of signals to be sent over at least one bit line in said plurality of bit lines other than said selected bit line;

transmitting said first group of signals on said selected bit line; and transmitting said second group of signals over said at least one bit line in said plurality of bit lines other than said selected bit line" but these method steps do not have any useful result.

Claims 7-9 and 10-15, these claims are rejected under similar rationale as set forth in claims 1-6.

Double Patenting

3. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Omum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

4. Claims 1-25 are remain provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 3, 7-10, 12, 14 and 16-30 of copending Application No. 10/766,386. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because all limitation of the rejected claims are claimed in at least one of the claims 3, 7-10, 12, 14 and 16-30 of applicant's copending application, some limitation of the instant application is wording differently from limitation of the copending application but have the same meaning, for example, "simultaneously" which is the same as "concurrently" and there is no reason why the rejected claims could not have been presented in the copending application 10/766,386.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

5. Applicant's arguments filed on 5/9/08 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive because:

a) 35 U.S.C. 101:

Applicant argues that "it is respectfully submitted that systems and methods for providing a signal pattern do provide a useful result by generating a signaling pattern. Once generated, the signaling pattern may be utilized in testing a memory device or in other applications. However, it is respectfully submitted that the generation of a signal pattern is in and of itself a useful result • that is statutory under 35 U.S.C. § 101".

Examiner disagrees with applicant because the step of providing a signal pattern by generating a signaling pattern do not provide a useful result because the signaling pattern may be utilized in testing a memory device or other applications, but it does not doing the actual testing of the memory device or other applications to produce a useful test result. Therefore, claims 1-6, 7-9 and 10-15 are not patentable over 35 U.S.C. 101.

b) Double patenting:

The double patenting rejected of claims 1-25 are remain rejected because no terminal disclaimer for these claims have been filed.

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
